Thailand introduces new 10-year long-term resident visa for foreigners

TAT is pleased to advise that applications opened on 1 September, 2022, for Thailand's new 'Long-Term Resident (LTR)' visa, which offers multiple benefits for holders, including a 10-year visa (extendable) and permission to work in the kingdom.

The LTR visa is available to four categories of foreigners:

- Wealthy global citizens - having total assets of not less than US$1 million, personal income of not less than US$80,000 per year in the past two years, who invest in Thailand to the value of not less than US$500,000.
- Foreign retirees (wealthy pensioners) - having personal income of not less than US$80,000 per year.
- Work-from-Thailand professionals - having personal income of at least US$80,000 per year in the past two years, work experience of not less than five years, and be working in a legally registered company which has income of not less than US$150 million within the past three years.
- Highly skilled professionals - having personal income of not less than US$80,000 per year, are skillful in the target industry, and have not less than five years of work experience.

Spouse and children under 20 years of age of an LTR visa holder also qualify (up to four dependants per visa holder).

The LTR visa offers multiple benefits to the holder. These being:

- A visa with 10-year validity (which can be extended);
- The requirement to report to immigration once a year instead of every 90 days;
- Fast track service at international airports in Thailand;
- Multiple re-entry permit;
- Permission to work in Thailand (digital work permit);
- Personal income tax rate reduction to 17% for highly skilled professionals;
- Exemption from the four Thais to one foreigner employment requirement ratio.

For more information on the LTR visa and to make an application, please visit <https://ltr.boei.go.th/index.html>.

Thailand named among Top 3 Best Countries in the World by Readers of Condé Nast Traveler

Distinctions for the kingdom in the Condé Nast Traveler Readers' Choice Awards 2022 also include Bangkok at No. 4 on 'Best Cities in the World' list, and Chiva-Som at No. 1 on 'The Best Destination Spas in the World' list. On the list of the 10 'Top Islands' in Asia, Ko Samui was named 3rd, Phuket was 5th and the Phi Phi Islands was 10th. The list of 'The Best Resorts in the World' saw Rosewood Phuket named 11th best out of a total of 50 resorts
