Food On Stick

Thailand is well-known for its vibrant street food culture, and one of the most popular types of street food happens to be... food on sticks.

From grilled meats to sweet treats, many vendors offer a variety of delicious food options skewered on sticks for easy snacking on the go. Some of the most iconic Thai street food on sticks include satay, which is marinated and grilled meat usually served with peanut sauce, moo ping or grilled pork skewers, and khao niew ping or sticky rice on a stick served with sweet topping.
